1. MORNING REVEILLE: Reveille will be at 0430 unless otherwise specified. Reveille may be earlier for events such as field training, conditioning hikes, obstacle courses, and practical training. Attention to the schedule, listening, and understanding of information being passed by advisors, instructors, and staff is your responsibility. The schedule for the upcoming days and weeks will be posted in your barracks. Stay flexible, the schedule is subject to change.

2. FORMATIONS: Every student will muster in formation 15 minutes prior to any scheduled event. Company formations are held on the grinder (basketball court outside the Quarterdeck).

- Morning formation will be conducted at 0500 unless otherwise specified. All students will be present and will march to chow unless otherwise specified. It is imperative that the company arrive at the chow hall no later than 0515. After chow, students need to prepare for the training day and as such will be in their classroom seats 15 minutes prior to the start of class or as dictated by their platoon advisors.
- Evening formation will be everyday, Sunday thru Thursday at 1945 unless otherwise specified. This is an ALL-HANDS LIBERTY SECURING formation and off-base liberty will be secured afterward. The Liberty Policy is explained on page 14.
- Field Day formation will be every Thursday at 1830 unless otherwise specified. This formation will commence the field-day of the barracks. *There will be times when this formation will not be held and field-day will commence at the end of the work day.
- Post-72/96 Hour Liberty formation will be held on the last day of every 72/96 hour liberty at 1945. This is an ALL-HANDS LIBERTY SECURING formation and off-base liberty will be secured afterward. No other evening formation will be held on these days.

3. STUDENT LEADERSHIP POSITIONS/ROLES: There are seven student leadership positions available during your time at FMTB-E. All leaders, regardless of their position, must set the example. If you have questions concerning your role and position, ask your Platoon Advisors. Remember, leaders are not born but made. Use this training opportunity to develop and perfect your leadership skills. As always, leaders are held to a higher standard of conduct, professionalism, and accountability.

- Student Company Commander: The Student Company Commander is normally the most senior person in the company. Their function is to supervise and carry-out the instructions given by the Training Chief. In the event the Training Chief is not available, the SMI/ATO will pass instruction. This student serves as the focal point of contact for the company and receives instructions to be passed down. The Student Company Commander is responsible for conducting any “all-hands” formations. He/she will ensure that the morning report is completed and turned in by 0700 on training days to the Training Chief. The Student Company Commander is also responsible for providing the evening muster report to the OOD by 2000 for all liberty securing formations or 1800 for all post-72/96 hour liberty formations. The Student Company Commander will keep the platoon commanders well informed and is not authorized to give extra military instruction (EMI) or punish another student. Any problems that arise must be discussed with the Training Chief and brought through the chain of command.

- Student Platoon Commander: The Student Platoon Commander is normally the most senior person in the platoon. Their function is to supervise and carry-out the instructions given by the Student Company Commander, the Platoon Advisors, the Senior Military Instructor (SMI), or the Assistant Training Officer (ATO). The Student Platoon Commander serves as a focal point of contact within the platoon and receives instructions to be passed down. The Student Platoon Commander is responsible for keeping his/her squad leaders well informed and having accountability of all students within the platoon. In the event the Staff Advisors are not present, the Student Platoon Commander will carry out the daily routine designated in the schedule. The Platoon Commander is not authorized to give EMI or punish another student and any problems that arise must be discussed with the Staff Advisors and Training Chief.

- Student Platoon Sergeant: The Student Platoon Sergeant is responsible for holding all platoon formations, conducting musters, keeping all the troops well-informed, and for marching the platoon to and from all destinations. Assistance with calling close order drill is available from the Staff Advisors. The Student Platoon Sergeant will account for all personnel, including weapons when carried, and report them on the morning muster report. At the morning formation, the Student Platoon Sergeant will conduct a daily uniform inspection. The following will be checked during uniform inspections: clean, neat, serviceable uniforms, blackened collar devices, clean boots, and personal grooming to standards.

- Student Platoon Scribe: The Student Scribe will be given a binder/bag with important forms (sickcall, administrative services, special request forms, etc.) necessary to conduct day-to-day functions. The Staff Advisors will assemble the Scribe binder/bag and properly inform the Scribe of his/her responsibilities. The Student Platoon Scribe is responsible for the documentation of the student morning report while other duties may vary according to their platoon advisors.

- Student Platoon Master-at-Arms (MAA): The Student Platoon MAA is responsible for ensuring that daily clean-up assignments are given and performed while also ensuring that good order and discipline is maintained in the barracks. The Student MAA will ensure that the barracks are clean and neat prior to leaving every morning, while also ensuring the platoon classroom and accompanying head are clean, neat, and restocked prior to leaving every afternoon. The Student MAA is responsible for the field day of the barracks and classroom every week. The Student MAA will ensure all cleaning supplies are on-hand and submit the proper request to the Supply Petty Officer for additional gear and supplies as needed. In the event something breaks or an infraction occurs, the MAA will immediately notify the Student Platoon Commander and the Staff Advisors during normal working hours or the OOD after hours.

- Squad Leader: The Squad Leader is responsible for any tasks given by the chain of command and for their squad's accountability, welfare, readiness, and understanding of orders and the mission to successfully achieve objectives.

- Fire Team Leader: Within each squad, Fire Team Leaders are responsible for any tasks given by the chain of command and for their fire team's accountability, welfare, readiness, and understanding of orders and the mission to successfully achieve objectives.

4. SICKCALL PROCEDURES: If you are sick and need to go to sick call, you must notify your Platoon Scribe NLT 0600. The Platoon Scribe will contact the Commands Independent Duty Corpsman (IDC) NLT 0630. The IDC will then treat Students as needed or direct you to the Camp Johnson Branch Medical Clinic (BMC) or call for an appointment at 910-450-0836. If you are sent to the BMC you will report for your appointment and return to the IDC with your disposition/duty status change immediately after appointment is complete. In the event IDC is unavailable, you will report to your Advisors after appointments for disposition/duty status.

If it is an emergency, call 911 and immediately inform a Staff Advisor. If you are off base, call 911 in an emergency or go directly to the Naval Hospital Camp Lejeune Emergency Room. Remember, that it is your responsibility to keep your chain of command and the OOD (at 450-0712) informed of your whereabouts and status (discharge, sick-in-quarters, hospitalization, etc). After being seen, you will report to the Independent Duty Corpsman (IDC) the following day. If it is on the weekend or holiday, report by the next training day. In all cases, you are to report to the FMTB-E OOD immediately upon release/departure from the hospital.

5. UNIFORM STANDARDS: The MARPAT combat utility uniform (woodland) will be the prescribed uniform of the day. The utility uniform will always be clean and collar devices will be blackened. Boots will be cleaned everyday and your trousers will be bloused appropriately. You will not be penalized if your boots get dirty during the training day. PT gear of any kind is NOT AUTHORIZED anywhere on base except the gym or while exercising.

The MARPAT combat utility uniform or any portion thereof will not be worn in town. The ONLY exception is during a medical emergency or a vehicle breakdown. You may wear the utility uniform anywhere on base. This is different from the wear of the Navy Working Uniform (NWU), which is outlined in the Navy Uniform Regulations Manual.

6. FIELD DAY: Field day will normally be conducted on Thursdays and inspected on Friday by the Command MAA and Training Chief. Failure to properly clean will result in re-inspection. Re-inspection of barracks will be conducted at a time determined by the Command MAA, Training Chief, or OOD no later than Saturday morning. A 2nd inspection failure will result in re-inspection the following morning by the Staff Advisors, or OOD. Daily cleanup assignments will be delegated by the Student Platoon MAA. As always, daily maintenance of the barracks will result in an easier field day. Barracks trash will be emptied in the dumpster, at a minimum, twice daily (0545 and 1945 daily). As always, the barracks and all common-spaces are subject to inspection at any time.

<https://www.facebook.com/FMTBeast?fref=ts>

In addition to regular field days, the platoon will be given an additional cleaning assignment by the Training Chief or Staff Advisors, i.e., main classroom, heads, classrooms, lounges, training areas, grounds, parking areas, etc. The platoon MAA will be responsible to carry out the instructions and report to the Student Platoon Commander/Sergeant ensuring that these cleaning assignments are completed prior to the next day. These assignments should not interfere with evening chow.

7. EXAMS/STUDY TIPS AND MANDATORY NIGHT STUDY: There are five FMST Block exams and four MCECST block exams on the schedule, so prepare accordingly. Study in quiet places. Studying with a group might be helpful, but studying is ultimately YOUR responsibility. Block exam reviews for all students will be held prior to each exam. Students who fail any block exam(s) will be counseled and re-tested at 0600 the following morning. Students who fail one exam will also be placed on remedial mandatory study sessions, conducted from 1800-1900, on a nightly basis, Sunday thru Thursday. Those students will remain on mandatory study sessions until they pass the next regularly scheduled exam. Students who fail any two tests will remain on mandatory night study throughout the remainder of the class. If a student fails two tests, a Student Performance Academic Review (SPAR) board will be conducted to assess the student's progress. The maximum score obtainable on any retest is an 80 for GPA purposes. Bottom line: Study!!

*Hint: The questions are based on your Enabling Learning Objectives (ELOs) in your student handout. Although you are responsible for all of the material in your student handout, the ELOs are helpful for focusing on the most important material.

Prior to the start of class, you will receive a copy of your Student Manual either electronically or a hard copy. Make SURE you take time to review it and answer all the questions at the end of each section and block review questions. The next 8 weeks will be very hectic and strenuous; you will need all the extra time you can muster up to study!

There is no time to conduct a remedial physical training program to get students who are minimally qualified to be fully prepared to commence training. It is recommended that you PT on your own in safe conditions, i.e., with a friend, early morning or evening with reflective gear, keeping hydrated, etc. Your participation and performance in daily physical training, PFA, conditioning hikes, and PFT are factored into your overall course performance. Failure to successfully complete the Navy PFA or to be within Navy weight and body-fat standards prior to graduation will require you to remain onboard as part of Sailors Awaiting Training/Transfer (SAT/T) platoon until within standards. The student will be held from graduating until successful completion of the PFA. Runs are normally conducted with the Training Company or your Platoon running in formation. However, on certain days, the training company may do ability group runs where each platoon or student may challenge themselves to improve their physical leadership for hazing. FMTB-E BnO 5370.1 series, Standards of Conduct sets guidance on conduct of all staff and students. It is incumbent upon all members of this command to conduct themselves in such a manner that they, at all times and under all circumstances, set the best possible example for subordinates, peers and seniors and represent the Navy and Marine Corps. Unseemly conduct while in and out of uniform tends to reflect discredit upon the Navy and the Marine Corps and may be considered an infraction of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). This is a formal Marine Corps School and we represent the Navy's finest on a Marine Corps Base.

Teamwork is essential in combat. You must be able to work with everyone. You must obey the orders of the leaders appointed over you. Someday you will be asked to take a leadership position.

13. AWARDS: There are several awards that can be achieved at FMTB-E. If you are motivated you can earn more than one:

- Honor Graduate: Awarded to the HM with the highest overall grade point average (GPA).
- Super Doc: Awarded to the HM who displays the most motivation, professionalism, leadership, and who helps others to succeed. Students nominate one individual from each platoon and a board comprised of Marine Corps and Navy instructors select the awarded.

- RMT (Religious Ministry Team) Motivator: Awarded to the RP who displays the most motivation, professionalism, leadership, and who helps others to succeed. Students and Advisors nominate up to 5 individuals and a board comprised of Marine Corps and Navy instructors select the awardee.

14. CIVILIAN ATTIRE: At the conclusion of the training day, based upon your phase liberty status, liberty will be granted so bring proper civilian attire. When you leave this base you will be in proper civilian attire. Pants and shorts with pockets are acceptable only if they are not fraying or in disrepair. Belts and shoes or tennis/running sneakers/shoes are to be worn. Tank tops and white or green undershirts are unauthorized unless used as an undershirt with civilian attire. Shower shoe type footwear is not authorized; however, SANDAL type footwear is authorized. There are plenty of Marines and Sailors out there ready to correct inappropriate attire. Remember, you represent the Navy, in and out of uniform, so take pride in your personal bearing and appearance.

- You are NOT permitted to enter the Marine Corps Exchange or base ATM in PT gear.
- You are NOT authorized to mix civilian clothes or footwear with the MARPAT uniform

17. OFF LIMITS ESTABLISHMENTS: Upon reporting, you will be advised of social and commercial establishments, which are off-limits to military personnel (Posted on QD). Military personnel may subject themselves to personal risk if they use the off-limits facilities. If you are found at these establishments you may be charged for being in violation of the UCMJ.

“The Globe” which is the base newspaper, publishes current off-limits establishments weekly and these lists are posted on command bulletin boards as well as providing a listing of local businesses against which many service members have made complaints, or that are off-limits due to unscrupulous business practices. See <http://www.lejeune.usmc.mil/globe/index.html> for current information.

18. PROHIBITED POSSESSION AND CONSUMPTION OF ALCOHOL: THE LEGAL DRINKING AGE IN THE STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA IS 21!

Driving Under the Influence (DUI) is a very serious offense in North Carolina and carries some harsh penalties. Regardless of the outcome in civilian court, members charged with drinking under age or a DUI shall be referred for evaluation and counseling for substance abuse, loss of base driving privileges, and probable non-judicial punishment.

The possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages in a privately owned vehicle is strictly prohibited while on, or assigned to, the Camp Lejeune area, Camp Johnson, and FMTB-E. Additionally, no alcoholic beverages are authorized on the grounds, parking areas, buildings, training areas or barracks of Camp Johnson to include FMTB-E. Four Corners, adjacent to the quarter deck, is the only authorized area where alcohol may be consumed by students 21 years of age or over, after normal working hours and not in a duty status.

All watch standers are prohibited from consuming alcohol 12 hours before and during the 24 hours of their duty section. Example: If you come on watch at 0730, you will not consume alcohol from 1930 the night before and the 24 hours during your duty day, regardless if you are assigned a watch or not. Whether you are standing a watch or on deck to assume the watch later, you are in a duty status. The student must always be available and ready for tasking by the CDO or OOD. Violations of this policy will result in disciplinary action.

19. SMOKING/DIPPING/CHEW POLICY: Tobacco use of any kind (including E-Cigarettes) is NOT authorized during training hours, this includes while conducting range operations. Smoking in uniform while walking is NOT authorized. Use of tobacco is only authorized at base designated smoke deck (tobacco use is NOT authorized within 50 feet of any entrance to any building on base). It is the responsibility of student smokers to maintain the cleanliness of all smoking areas. If the areas don't maintain an appropriate state of police, they will be secured.

27. Introduction to ORM (Operational Risk Management)

Operational and Off-Duty Risk management is, in reality, a tool for making smart decisions, used by people at all levels. Each person has a role to play in managing risk for the unit and each role is vital to success. Leaders likely use the ORM process and techniques in planning the events the unit will take on. Junior personnel are more engaged in managing risk during the execution of evolutions and tasks. Each of these levels requires different skills and knowledge.

The goal of Risk Management is not to eliminate risk, but to manage risk so the mission can be accomplished with minimum impact. We manage risk to operate, not avoid risk as a means to prevent loss.

Navy and Marine Corps personnel apply ORM each and every day. If you adhere to procedures and keep your eyes open for changes, you are applying ORM by "implementing control measures" and "supervising and watching for change". Evolution briefs and SOPs are derived from several required references. These evolution briefs and SOPs are forms of Risk Management that assist personnel in performing safe and effective training. Leaders at all levels must integrate a safety awareness that facilitates realistic and safe training using the ORM process.

The most common idea of what ORM is revolves around a simple five-step process that is most frequently used in planning, or at the Deliberate Level. These five steps are:

1. Identify hazards
2. Assess the hazards
3. Make risk decisions
4. Implement controls
5. Supervise and watch for change

Another level of ORM is Time Critical Risk Management which involves a quick, committed-to-memory process and a set of skills that allow our people to manage risk when in the execution of a plan or event. The standard for the Navy is being developed, however it might be thought of in simple terms such as:

1. What can go wrong or is changing --
2. How can I keep it from effecting the mission or hurting me --
3. Act to correct the situation --

FIELD MEDICAL TRAINING BATTALION - EAST
CAMP LEJEUNE, NC

<https://www.facebook.com/FMTBeast?fref=ts>

4. Telling the right people if you are unable to take the right action

There are other ways to look at ORM to take the mystery out of the concepts and process

What ORM Is . . .

- A mindset and/or methodology applicable to any activity
- Accomplishing the mission with acceptable risk
- Planning using a standard process (5 Steps)
- A continuous process
- Based on experience/collective experience
- Following procedures (controls)
- Watching for change (supervising)
- Flexible
- Working as a team
- Best when applied as a team
- Asking "What's Different"
- Skill and knowledge dependant
- Sharing experience, lessons learned
- Using available tools/resources
- Applied, standardized "common sense"
- "Looking before you leap"

As in-depth as you have time for

Operational Risk Management

5-Step Process

- Identify hazards
- Assess hazards
- Make risk decisions
- Implement controls
- Supervise (watch for changes)

Risk Management Matrix OPNAVINST 3500.39B		PROBABILITY
		A Likely	B Probable	C May	D Unlikely
SEVERITY	I Death, Loss of Asset	1	1	2	3

Four Principles of ORM

- Accept risk when benefits outweigh the cost.
- Accept no unnecessary risks.
- Anticipate and manage risk by planning.
- Make risk decisions at the right level.
