Our mission is to safely train Navy Medical Department personnel and Religious Program Specialists (RPs) in the knowledge, skills and attitudes necessary to serve with the Marine Corps. Safety will be emphasized in all aspects of what we do to ensure the preservation of our personnel, facilities, and equipment. We will incorporate the principles of Force Preservation and Operational Risk Management (ORM) in our leadership, planning, mission execution, and operations.

Safety will be part of our daily routine and conscious, and we will deliberately incorporate safety and risk management into our decision making process both on and off duty. We will incorporate the principles of ORM in the planning and execution of our tasks and balance training and operational requirements with known risks and the mission at hand and reduce the risk of unnecessary and preventable losses to the lowest feasible levels.

We must not take shortcuts in our operations that could endanger the safety or health of ourselves or others. Everyone will be a leader in and responsible for safety and positively influence safe behavior by setting the example and holding personnel accountable for their actions.
